Fashion Show For Tili's Aug. 24

Foods and Fashions will get together to give life a lift on Wednesday, August 24 as the Statesboro Business & Professional Women's Club presents its second fashion show for Tili's. Show models will be in 8:00 o'clock sharp, with Emma Kelly featured at the piano, and narration by Eloise Hunnicutt.

The fashions will be the new fall line at Tili's but the foods will be of all seasons and will be made possible through the local Piggly Wiggly Store.

The foods will highlight a unique awarding of floor prizes immediately following the show and preceding the reception for all in attendance.

Miss Zula Gammage, local BFW president and models chairman, has announced a partial list of models to include the following: Marsha Lanier, Buffa Alderman, Cynthia Johnson, Jan Tillman, Alice Paul, Prissy Wilkerson, Marsha Waters, Wanda Watson, Carol Hodges, Linda Woodard, Bobbie Jackson, Carole Huggins, Jean Holloway, Ann Hollaway, Kay Lunford, Tess Bryan, Jane Kinklighter, Jack Wofford, Patricia Redding, Amelia Robertson, Joanne Anderson, Toyvone Miller.

MYF District Rally Held At Nevils

The Savannah District MYF held their annual Youth Rally at the Nevils Methodist Church on Wednesday afternoon with approximately 200 in attendance. The Bulloch County Sub-District was host to the group. The meeting was carried on by the youth committee members appointed from the six MYFs in the Bulloch County Sub-District to take care of all the activities, such as registration, giving name tags, registration, distributed lunch tickets, etc. Each one had a responsibility which was well taken care of.

Registration began at 4:30 o'clock. The meal was served at 5:30 and at 7:00 o'clock a wonderful program was presented in the sanctuary of the Nevils church.

The program, "Our Methodist Heritage" was presented in three scenes. The Past, Present and the Future. The first act was presented by the Nevils and Charles Wesley. The monologue included the Christian activities that these two ministers experienced while in Savannah in the early days. During this period the church was darkened and only a spotlight was

New Cotton Gin At Brooklet

The town of Brooklet saw its new cotton gin in operation for the first time Friday, August 12. G. A. Lanier of the Nevils community ginned the first bale of cotton for the new season on the latest and most modern ginning plant in the entire Southeast, which was recently completed by its owner, John B. Anderson.

Cloned by Govan Anderson, the bale of cotton weighed 550 pounds and graded M plus 1-1/16. John B. Anderson and the Farmers Bonded Warehouse of Brooklet, headed by Lanier 58c per lb. for the bale.

The public is invited to view this mechanical wonder, the new gin in Brooklet.

Tobacco Sales Below Last Year

Sales on the floors of the Statesboro tobacco warehouses for the seventeen selling days through Friday, August 19, were over three million pounds less than in the same period in 1959.

The market upset during the opening days when the "blue tag law" was in effect and the harvesting conditions due to a later planting season than normal was reflected in the loss. Although an injunction was granted in Georgia nearly a half million hot meals are served in 1775 school lunchrooms daily during the 180-day school year.

Sports At The Recreation Center

The Robbins' Packers are still in their fighting. After taking a defeat the first day of the double elimination tournament, the Packers have bounced back strong and are scheduled to play the Ogeechee River League.

Friday, August 21, the Packers slipped by Rocky Ford, 7 to 6, in a thriller. The visiting Rocky Ford team had the Packers down 2 to 2 for six innings but the Packers fought back and eliminated Rocky Ford from the tournament.

The Packers scored two runs in the first, four in the sixth and one in the eighth to give them a one-run edge.

Camp Meeting To End Sunday

For ninety-three years people of this section have gathered on the historic site for the annual encampment of the Fattinal Camp Meeting. The first service of this year's camp was held last Monday night, August 22, at 8:00 o'clock.

The camp meeting this year is under the direction of Rev. Frank Robertson, District Superintendent of the Savannah District. Regular services are held each day at 1:00 a. m., 3:00 p. m. and 8:00 p. m. The last service will be held Sunday night, August 28.

Was This You?

You have three children. They are a son and a daughter and a daughter to be married Sunday, August 28th.

If the lady described above will call at the Bulloch Times office at 25 Seibald Street, she will be given two tickets to the picture showing at the Georgia Theater.

After receiving her tickets, if the lady will call on the Statesboro Floral Shop she will be given a lovely orchid with the compliments of Bill Holloway, the proprietor.

For a free hair styling, call Christine's Beauty Shop for an appointment.

The lady described last week was Mrs. John Daniel Deal.

FALL REVIVAL TO BEGIN AUG. 28 AT LAWRENCE

The annual fall revival will begin at Lawrence Church on Sunday, August 28 and will continue through Sunday, September 5. Services will be held each day at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Curtis W. Edwards, the pastor, will be the speaker. On Sunday, Sept. 5th the church will observe homecoming with a basket dinner at the noon hour.

The Bulloch County Singing Convention will meet at Lawrence that day.

Local Members To Attend Meet

James C. Carrington, 16 Church Street, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses said today that thirty-five delegates will represent the congregation at the district convention scheduled for the Miami Beach Convention Hall, August 25 to 28.

The convention is designed to serve Florida, Georgia and Alabama and was arranged by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Peanut Harvest Is Under Way

(By Roy Powell, County Agent)

Peanut harvesting is well under way, and many of you are probably about ready to dry peanuts. In this last stage of harvest, there are certain do's and don'ts to follow for maintaining quality peanuts.

Peanuts should be artificially dried to an average moisture content of 8 1/2 percent. Air temperature for drying should not exceed 100 degrees F. Drying peanuts too rapidly and at temperature exceeding 100 degrees F. may adversely affect flavor of peanut when processed, make them subject to leaching when shelled, and reduce their germination.

If peanuts are dried in bulk by use of a one-way heated air system, they should not be placed in depths greater than 4 feet. No portion of a lot of peanuts should be dried, either in windrows, or by artificial means, to below 10 percent moisture content (wet basis). Damage in shelling, such as seedling sproutage, also appears to be associated with drying peanuts to too low a moisture content even though moisture is higher at time of shelling.

U. OF GA. GRADUATES 500 AT SUMMER EXERCISES

Almost 500 students received degrees at the University of Georgia's summer graduation exercises at Athens last Thursday, August 18.

Services will be held each day at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Local students graduating included: Ernest Lantz Wall, BS; Emory Delacy Luke, BS in Pharmacy; Robert Otis Waters, BS in Forestry; William Eugene Ray, BS in Business Administration; Albert Bernard McDougald, Jr., BS in Journalism.

Blue Devils Have Will To Win

(By Buddy Martin in Atlanta Journal-Constitution)

A 205-pound count turned full-blown Devil back field will be a little beefier.

Lindsey Johnson, who was converted the fullback slot for the Blue Devils' offense, will be punched to the Blue Devils' running attack, heads the list of eight lettermen for Coach Ernest Teel's forces.

Teel, who calls Johnson "the best college player we've got," says he has been pleased with the hefty linebuster's performance during practice. "He moves pretty good for a big boy."

"We've got a pretty good first team, but our reserve strength is our biggest problem," he says.

With Johnson in the lineup at fullback—he's the heaviest grader in the starting unit—the Blue Devils back field will be a little beefier.

But apparently there's plenty of room for the big boy—weight light weight halfbacks Auston Youmans (165) and Jamie Manley (165) as well as quarterbacks Jimmy Seavey (160) sharing ball-carrying chores.

Seavey, a regular on the basketball team and son of GSC coach J. B. Seavey, will direct the Statesboro split-T offense, which will be predominantly a ground attack. He's a tricky ball-handler.

"How'll we do this year? Well, we should be able to give a fair account of ourselves. We hope to win half our games. Where we lack in size we'll make up with the will to win, though."

But as Teel put it, "we'll know after our first game against Jewett (Wayne County, Sept. 2.)"

Tax Digest For County Shows Gain

Winfield Lee, county tax commissioner, made it known last week that the 1960 tax digest for Bulloch County shows a gross gain of $40,589 and a net gain of $40,589 over the 1959 tax digest.

The total digest shows a gross increase of $14,148,340 for 1960. The 1959 gross figure was $13,065,951. With homestead exemptions totaling $4,215,226 and personal exemption totaling $1,335,300, the net digest for taxable purposes for 1960 is $8,598,815.

A total of 417,565 acres of land were returned on the digest. There were approximately 7,000 returns made of which 5,500 are by white property owners and 1,500 by Negro property owners.

135 Receive Degrees At G. S. C.

Georgia Southern College awarded 135 degrees last Thursday morning at its annual commencement program held in the McCowan Auditorium.

Among the degrees were the first master of education degrees ever conferred by the college. The institution awarded its first four year degrees in 1959.

Speaker was Dr. W. Earl Strickland, president of Wesleyan College in Macon. Dr. Strickland said one of the basic problems of education today is to enable the student to determine just what he fits in, today's troubled and complicated world.

He cautioned: "Do not underestimate the importance of a liberal arts education with additional special training, in place of what most Americans now stress—that only an education for 'real life' is important."

Dr. Strickland conceded that education is of little value if it doesn't train man to make a living, but preferred to hope that the well educated man should be able to meet all the problems of life, that education should serve to develop.

Several hundred people turned out Sunday afternoon to inspect Statesboro's newest sub-division, as the W. A. Bowen Co. held open house on Solomon Circle. The Willette Robinson family of Sylva was the first to visit the model home completely furnished by Bowen Furniture Co.

Solomon Circle, located just off Denmark Street in west Statesboro, was first conceived several years ago when W. A. Bowen purchased several acres of land from Solomon Huentgen and set out to give prospective home buyers in Statesboro the most home possible for the least money possible.

Mr. Bowen, in commenting on the showing of the model home, stated that he was very pleased with the public response, and that he wished to thank all those who came out to visit the home.

Local Club's Successful Year

The club year 1959-60 has been one of the most successful years for the Statesboro chapter of the Junior Women's Club. From the summer social at Robbins' Pond, something new and new meetings to the last monthly meeting in May of this month, the club has been most active. The theme for the year "Prepare Our Youth Today To Be Good Citizens Tomorrow" was fittingly carried out through the year by program and projects.

Under the fine leadership of the president, Mrs. Carol Herring, and with superb cooperation of officers and departments, the programs, projects and contests for the Statesboro chapter of the National Community Achievement Contest for its participation and activities.

The ten projects carried on throughout the year, the most of which were attempted and of which the club is most proud, are:

1. Classroom for exceptional children.
2. Sponsored Mother's March for Polio.
3. Sponsored Building of Girl Scout House.
4. Open-House for Girl Scout House.
5. Honored County Teachers on Teacher Appreciation Day.
6. Sponsored Girl Scout Troop.
7. Christmas Party for Underprivileged Children.
8. Participation in Women's Club Service Bureau.
9. "Care" for Korea.
10. Tree Planting in Observance of Arbor Day.

College Days Ahead

This is the time of year when millions of college students, all over the country, prepare to leave home and enter college for the first time, or return.

If we could offer any single piece of advice to youngsters entering college, or returning to college, it would be for them to develop a Christian philosophy and attempt to live by it. We are too rapidly becoming a "standardized" people in the United States.

Each young boy and girl should develop their own Christian philosophy, according to their religion and conscience, as well as themselves, and they would resist the temptation to follow the crowd, or conform socially, if it does not blend in with his or her own personal philosophy. In the long run, the world will reward independent thinking—although the cost may seem to be high, or exorbitant, temporarily.

Life will, even yet, reward the individual who thinks for himself and develops his own philosophy and character and this is a major undertaking for every student going to school this fall.

Fifteen Years Ago

Fifteen years ago, in August, 1945, the United States exploded the first two atom bombs the world had ever seen.

Only a few days after the second bomb was exploded, the Japanese surrendered in the face of the terrifying destruction which might have been wrought on the island. They did not know, of course, that the United States had only very few of these weapons, and that it would take some time to construct others.

They saw the destruction wrought by the first two bombs, and this was enough to induce them to surrender.

Unfortunately, as the Germans so often tell us today, we found that the Russians were our enemies all along—even when we aided them in World War II—and they remain our enemies today. Until a few months ago, it appeared that Nikita Khrushchev was winning his theoretical battle against the communist hierarchy, and that he was content to battle it out with democracy over a long-term, economic test. Recent actions have somewhat weakened this view, and it is a poor commentary on mankind in general that the peace of the world once again hangs by a thin thread. The major threat of war, in our opinion, is the threat of non-nuclear war, for it is difficult to believe that either Russia or the United States would use nuclear weapons first, on the civilian population. This kind of war is constantly threatening. We found that the Russians were our enemies all along—even when we aided them in World

We Need Loyal Americans

It is the favorite pastime of most Americans to discuss what the country needs. We do not have the intelligence to outline a program for all to follow. We would modestly recommend, however, that loyal Americans consider their present condition and the plight of their country and then make some positive contribution to the common good of life. Do not mislead yourself. You cannot make a positive contribution to the cause of civilization in the face of great danger without some personal sacrifice. If you have any plan in mind which enables you to escape the pressure of world conditions, you can put it aside because it will not work. You cannot contribute to a profit.

There is no substitute for loyalty. Flagwaving, public demonstrations and community-wide expressions of solidarity do not replace the faithful individual, upon whom successful government depends. As a citizen, it is essential for you to make your contribution to the United States of America. We do not know, and we would hesitate to suggest, what any man, woman or child do in the present emergency. We do not have the intelligence to outline a program for all to follow. We would modestly recommend, however, that loyal Americans consider their present condition and the plight of their country and then make some positive contribution to the common good of life. Do not mislead yourself. You cannot make a positive contribution to the cause of civilization in the face of great danger without some personal sacrifice. If you have any plan in mind which enables you to escape the pressure of world conditions, you can put it aside because it will not work. You cannot contribute to a profit.

Directions

In a few years the couple moved to an adjoining state and all trace of them was lost. At the end of thirty-five years, they returned in a Cadillac, with the wife fingers covered in diamonds. They were the proud parents of four children and the husband worth close to two hundred thousand dollars. They visited all those available or living calls.

"SERENADES"

(Anonymous)

One practice stopped several years ago has diminished the fun of the friends of brides and grooms, and most of all, the fun of the groomsmen, bridesmaids and the fear of a bride in a fence rail. Two or three days after a wedding, all the young friends of the couple would assemble at a pre-arranged place carrying blowing horns, bells, firecrackers and all kinds of noisemaking instruments. They would usually walk to the home of the newlyweds, but just before reaching their home, they would descend on the crowd. They would gather around the house and sing all hellian would break loose.

After a few moments of noise, the bride and groom would usually appear, protesting their lack of expectations and supply cake, too and wine. If the groom was overly enthusiastic of the guests and diplomatic in extraordinary style, he was usually let off by being the butt of several practical jokes.

If neither cake, wine, hospitality or diplomacy were evident, the groom was in for rough treatment. Unless the doors were opened, and the guests would be broken, pail of water doused the house, a fence rail provided and the groom asked to ride the fence. The bride and groom would be ridden up and down the road until either the guests or groom in utter exhaustion called quits.

Serenades became more practical and sensible and instead of the rail ride, the serenaders would provide gifts for the newlyweds, and they would usually be kept up all night by dining and dancing. There was a wide range of gifts with due consideration to the needs of the newly established couple.

Serenade four years ago, a boy and girl went in love but with no worldly goods or money, except one five dollar bill. The boy decided to ask their love and lock into the arms of fate and accept the consequences. Three dollars for the license, one dollar for the Justice of the Peace, and the rest for some bed ticking and one cast-iron pot consumed their cash resources.

They knew the owner of a one-room house with stick and clay chimney. With pot and bed ticking in hand, they went to see the house owner about its use and obtained permission to pull grass from the fence row to make a mattress. From another neighbor they borrowed, or rather accepted, as a bribe gift, a peck of meal, shoulder of meat and quart of grease. Thus ensconced against the windstorm, and under the stars, they began the voyage of life on the sea of inexperience.

The young people of the community decided on a serene and what would now be called a shower. Instead of talking the presents, it was decided to walk a mile to the store, buy a supply of pots and pans and make the groom carry them all home on his back. After the usual noise making,

... new-type concrete gives you the smoothest ride ever!

No annoying dips, no bothersome bumps. New-type concrete is as smooth as modern engineering can make a pavement!

Today's concrete is bringing you highways unequalled for smoothness and driving comfort.

Only concrete can do this because only concrete can be precisely engineered to such a high degree of flatness and smoothness—as well as to meet every strength requirement.

The very nature of concrete permits it to be placed and leveled to precise engineering standards—not just rolled or pounded into shape.

New-type concrete will stay level and even for an expected life of 80 years and more—for two good reasons. One is the concrete itself, ruggedly supported by a specially designed subgrade. And two is the concrete itself, which is so strong that it can carry the weight of the heaviest trucks and the heaviest loads.

Concrete also provides dependable skid resistance, good night vision. Upkeep costs? They'll run as low as the cost of the concrete itself. First cost is moderate. That's why concrete is the preferred pavement for the new Interstate System and other primary highways.

New Interstate Highways use the U. S. defense, too

That's why concrete is vital. It's the only pavement that can be engineered precisely to heavy loads, never loses strength. This means mobility and freedom of supply lines for military emergencies.

Miss Janie Lou Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Atwell, became the bride of Gaspar Calhoun Fulmer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fulmer, Sr., in a candlelight ceremony at the home of the bride, on Saturday August 18th at half after six o'clock, with Elder T. Roe Scott officiating at an impressive double ring ceremony with prayer by Mr. C. C. Fulmer.

The home was decorated with woodward fern with a fan shaped central arrangement of white gladioli, white asters and mums on either side of which were candle trees. Mrs. Gene Burgundy of Atlanta, presented nuptial music.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pure silk organza enhanced by hand-embroidered Chantilly lace, fashioned with sabrina neckline and basque waist. The back, highlighted by a cascade of alternating layers of lace and silk organza falling into a chapel sweep. She wore a half-hat fashioned of hand-embroidered Chantilly lace, the design of which was out lined with small pearls. The full circular veil was of pure silk imported English Illusion.

She carried a white Bible holding a white orchid and showered with white lube roses.

The Matron of Honor, and only attendant, Mrs. Brannen Richardson of Jacksonville, Florida, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a pure silk organza in Hyacinth blue, with circlet neckline, draped bodice, the skirt with folds of matching material. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations with showers of pink satin ribbon.

The best man was G. C. Fulmer, Sr., father of the groom.

Mrs. Lester Brannen, Jr. was at the door to the gift room presiding over by Mrs. Emerson Brannen.

Mrs. Penton Rimes was at the door to say the good-byes. The brides book was kept by Miss Anne Fulmer.

Lovely music was rendered during the reception by Miss Irene Groover.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Fulmer changed to a stone gray costume suit done in silk and rayon, the bodice beautifully draped with matching silk chiffon, fitted midriff and front bow. The jacket was fitted and the skirt sheath. With this she wore gray lustre shoes, matching bag and gloves, hat of Ruby red. She wore the orchid lifted from her Bible.

H. D. CLUB MEETS

The Leefield H. D. Club met at the Homemakers' Kitchen on Tuesday, August 9, for an all day meeting, working on ceramics, the hostesses were Mrs. Russie Rogers and Mrs. M. S. Brannen.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pure silk organza enhanced by hand-embroidered Chantilly lace, fashioned with sabrina neckline and basque waist. The back, highlighted by a cascade of alternating layers of lace and silk organza falling into a chapel sweep. She wore a half-hat fashioned of hand-embroidered Chantilly lace, the design of which was out lined with small pearls. The full circular veil was of pure silk imported English Illusion.

She carried a white Bible holding a white orchid and showered with white lube roses.

The Matron of Honor, and only attendant, Mrs. Brannen Richardson of Jacksonville, Florida, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a pure silk organza in Hyacinth blue, with circlet neckline, draped bodice, the skirt with folds of matching material. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations with showers of pink satin ribbon.

The best man was G. C. Fulmer, Sr., father of the groom.

Mrs. Lester Brannen, Jr. was at the door to the gift room presiding over by Mrs. Emerson Brannen.

Mrs. Penton Rimes was at the door to say the good-byes. The brides book was kept by Miss Anne Fulmer.

Lovely music was rendered during the reception by Miss Irene Groover.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Fulmer changed to a stone gray costume suit done in silk and rayon, the bodice beautifully draped with matching silk chiffon, fitted midriff and front bow. The jacket was fitted and the skirt sheath. With this she wore gray lustre shoes, matching bag and gloves, hat of Ruby red. She wore the orchid lifted from her Bible.

RICHARDSON-FULMER VOWS

Miss Janie Lou Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Atwell, became the bride of Gaspar Calhoun Fulmer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Fulmer, Sr., in a candlelight ceremony at the home of the bride, on Saturday August 18th at half after six o'clock, with Elder T. Roe Scott officiating at an impressive double ring ceremony with prayer by Mr. C. C. Fulmer.

The home was decorated with woodward fern with a fan shaped central arrangement of white gladioli, white asters and mums on either side of which were candle trees. Mrs. Gene Burgundy of Atlanta, presented nuptial music.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pure silk organza enhanced by hand-embroidered Chantilly lace, fashioned with sabrina neckline and basque waist. Miss Mary Alice Belcher, daugh- ter of Mr. and Mrs. Robbie Bel- cher, attended the State 4-H Congress in Atlanta last week and won first prize in her class.

Miss Belcher's project was Cotton and Its Uses. For her demonstra- tion she made hats, using cotton material.

While at the State Congress she was installed as girls' vice- president of the State Council for 1961. She also attended a tea at Rich's for all state officers and bureaucratic waste of tax dollars, and work toward the re- turn of genuine economy and efficiency to the government of the United States.

DEFENSE-VETERANS . . . I pledge to support legislation de- signed to keep America's armed forces second to none. I will see that First District veterans, their widows, and their children receive the benefits to which they are entitled.

FOREIGN POLICY . . . I pledge to keep fully informed on in- ternational developments and to work for the establish- ment of a strong and consistent foreign policy which shall not be dependent upon dollar diplomacy and give-away programs. It is my confirmed conviction that in the expendi- ture of public monies the welfare, health, and prosper- ity of our own people should be considered first.

AGRICULTURE . . . I pledge to personally place the agricultural problems of the First District farmers before the new Secretary of Agriculture, and to work diligently for an agricultural program which would insure a more pro- sperous farm economy. I shall oppose with vigor any and all measures designed to drive the small farmer off the farm.

HIGHWAYS . . . I pledge to work tirelessly for the develop- ment of an accelerated Federal Aid Highway Program for the First District in which I will cooperate to the fullest extent with City-County officials and with the State Highway Department.

EDUCATION . . . I pledge to strenuously oppose any interven- tion by the Federal government in our public school system. I will work for a larger part of our federal tax dollar being returned with savings attached for the pur- pose of educating our youth.

RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT . . . I pledge to give high priority to the further development of all the many and varied resources in all of the eighteen counties of the First Dis- trict.

STATES RIGHTS . . . I pledge to work
